

Introduction to S-101 ENC Production with CARIS S-57 Composer

Teledyne CARIS E-learning Registration Information

Course Cost and Access

The cost for anyone to participate in this e-learning course (or self-paced online training course) is $300 USD per person.

This entitles you to have access to the online course and materials 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, from your desktop, for a continuous period of 90 days from the date of registration approval.

Payment

Pay for this course online using a credit card (Visa or MasterCard). Alternatively, contact Teledyne CARIS for other billing options.

Registration

To register, click the link and complete the online registration process:

- Enter the name, e-mail and organization of the person enrolling, and provide your CARIS entitlement (EMS license) ID*.
- Enter the billing person's name and contact information.
- Review the license agreement and click to continue.
- A payment summary will be displayed and click to continue.
- Teledyne CARIS aims to provide you with your login instructions within one business day after receiving payment confirmation.
- An e-mail will be sent to you containing your course login information, username and password.

If there are any questions about your registration process, you will be contacted by CARIS.

*CARIS Software

Enrolment in this course does not include a copy of the CARIS S-57 Composer software or a CARIS entitlement (EMS license). This course assumes that you have access to a copy of the software and a valid license. Whereas you could enrol in the without the software, you will not be able to perform any of the integral practical hands-on training exercises. This is not recommended by CARIS as you will miss out on a very large part of the overall learning experience.

Contact us

For more information about this training course, please contact Teledyne CARIS Global Headquarters:

Address: 115 Waggoners Lane, Fredericton, NB, E3B2L4, Canada

Phone: 1-506-458-8533

Website: www.teledynecaris.com

Contact us: <https://www.teledynecaris.com/en/contact/contact-sales/>

